BENJAMIN F. PRICE.

The subject of this sketch became a citizen of Seymour in 1863, and with his brother, Doctor W. H. Price, established the drug firm of Price Brothers, and for many years conducted a very successful business. In 1868 he was elected as the second city clerk of Seymour by the unanimous vote of the people, and was afterwards re-elected. In 1878 he was appointed auditor of Jackson county to fill a three year vacancy, caused by the death of William H. Hamilton. At the subsequent election he was chosen for a full term, and then re-elected for four years more. He served in all eleven years as auditor, the longest continuous term of any of our county officers. He served an unexpired term of nearly two years as postmaster of Seymour, in the first administration of Cleveland. For some time he was engaged in the grain business in the firm of Price and Hemphill. In 1891 he was one of the organizers of the Jackson County Bank and served as director and cashier of that institution until it was changed to the Seymour National Bank, of which he was the first president and until recently a director. On account of failing health he retired from all official positions in that bank a few years ago. At the solicitation of friends he assisted in organizing the Jackson County Trust Company and at their earnest request consented to act as one of its directors, a position which he held at the time of his death. He was also a stockholder in the First National Bank. He was

MRS. MARTHA E. GASAWAY PASSES TO HER REWARD

Death Comes Early Sunday Morning Following an Illness of Seven Weeks of Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Martha E. Gasaway, widow of the late James M. Gasaway, died at 12:45 o'clock Sunday morning at her home on West Laurel street, of organic heart trouble from which she had been suffering for seven weeks. Her condition has been critical for some time but on Friday she appeared to be stronger and her relatives were encouraged that the crisis had passed. However, on Saturday afternoon she suddenly became weaker and fell into a state of unconsciousness from which she did not rally. During her long illness she suffered great pain, but several hours before her death she rested better and the end came peacefully. Throughout her illness she accepted her condition with a quiet and resignation which was characteristic of her useful career.

Mrs. Gasaway was a native of Jackson county. She was born in Vernon township December 24 1849, and was the daughter of John B. and Susan B. Taulman. Her exact age at the time of her death was sixty-six years, three months and eight days. She spent her girlhood in Vernon township where she became a member of what is now the Uniontown Baptist church.

On September 16, 1869, she was united in marriage with James M. Gasaway and soon after their marriage they came to this city where they lived throughout their married life. Mr. Gasaway died November 8, 1911. Upon her removal to this city, Mrs. Gasaway affiliated with the First Baptist church and was a devoted member, living a true christian life. She was deeply interested in the work of the congregation and the societies of the church. She was an active member of the Missionary Society and Ladies' Aid and was always ready to do more than her share of the work that had been outlined. She was a regular attendant to all church services unless prevented from leaving her home because of illness.

The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. O. O. Swails, and Miss Adelaide Gasaway, one granddaughter, one brother, Frank Taulman and one sister, Mrs. Julia Sage, all of this city. When a boy Voss Cox, of this city, was made a member of the Gasaway household and was reared by the deceased.

The funeral will occur from the late residence at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon conducted by the Rev. Charles L. Graham, pastor of the First Baptist church, and the Rev. T. C. Smith, editor of the Baptist Observer. The remains will be laid to rest at Riverview cemetery.

CONCRETE MIXER WILL BE OPERATED BY ELECTRICITY

Powerful Motor Being Installed by Callahan-Mendl Company at Site of New Postoffice.

That the equipment of the Callahan-Mendl Company, which has the contract for erecting the new post-office building here, is strictly up to the minute is shown by the electrical devices which will be used in the construction work. Electricians have been busy connecting a large motor which will furnish the power for the concrete mixer. The motor will be housed under a box-like shelter near the machine. Some trouble has been experienced in getting the controller to work properly and as soon as the electrical connections are made the mixer will be started.

The first work to be undertaken now is the construction of the concrete base under the foundation. This was necessitated because of the presence of quicksand. The great slab of concrete will be re-enforced with three-quarter inch rods at right angles with the columns of the foundation. As soon as the mixer can be started the work will be pushed rapidly and upon completion of the concrete block work on the foundation will be started. Part of the steel, brick and stone to be used in the construction work has already been received and other large shipments are to be made soon so there will be no delay for want of material after the preliminary work is out of the way.

CAR TURNS TURTLE; WOMAN IS INJURED

Mrs. John E. Hunsucker, of Vallonia, Painfully Hurt in Automobile Accident on Brownstown Road.

Driver and Three Other Passengers Thrown Out but Escape Injury—Second Accident.

Mrs. John E. Hunsucker, wife of a prominent merchant at Vallonia, sustained serious injuries today when an automobile in which she was a passenger left the concrete roadway and overturned one-half mile east of Vallonia. In the machine with Mrs. Hunsucker were Mrs. Avanell Richards and her two children, who were on their way to Seymour returning to their home in Minnesota after a visit in Vallonia with Mr. and Mrs. Hunsucker. Mrs. Richards intended to board a train here and had planned to meet her husband in Chicago tonight. Mrs. Hunsucker was the only member of the company injured.

The machine was owned by Orville Cook, liveryman at Vallonia, and was driven by Floyd DeLay. At the time of the accident the car was not being operated at an excessive rate of speed, according to people living along the road. Mrs. Hunsucker was sitting on the right side of the car.

The accident is believed to have been the result of a defect in the steering apparatus. It is said that the car was moving along the concrete roadway when suddenly it veered to the side. The driver was unable to get the car back on the paved stretch of the road and before he could stop it the machine turned turtle.

Mrs. Hunsucker was thrown from the rear seat and her head struck either a telephone pole or a fence by the side of the road. She was not rendered unconscious by the blow. Mrs. Richards and two children were also thrown from the car but fell on Mrs. Hunsucker. None was hurt. Mrs. Hunsucker was removed to the home of R. W. Burcham, close by, and a physician was called. An examination revealed that no bones were broken and there were no serious bodily bruises. The injuries of the head, however, are considered serious, it is reported, but it will be several days before her real condition can be ascertained.

Mrs. Hunsucker desired to be taken to her home as soon as possible and after the injuries were dressed and she had rested a while she was removed home.

Mr. Cook, the owner of the machine, drove to the Burcham farm as soon as he heard of the accident. After he had examined the car he and Marshall Burcham started to drive it back to Vallonia but had not gone but a few rods when the machine again left the roadway, darted down a steep embankment and rammed into a wire fence, breaking it down. Burcham sustained a few cuts and bruises on his legs but they are not serious.

ADVICE OFFERED BY MATERIAL MEN

Representatives of Brick and Concrete Concerns "Lag" for County Business.

ROAD PETITIONS POSTPONED

Improvement of Three Highways in Jackson and One in Hamilton Township is Sought.

Material men representing brick and concrete concerns were numerous about the court house today and each was anxious to get an opportunity to appear before the county commissioners in regular session to say a word in behalf of the material which he sells. The presence of the material men was due to the filing of several petitions for concrete roads. Three were filed from this township and one from Hamilton township.

After the petitions were considered by the commissioners they voted to postpone action until the next meeting the first Monday in May so that remonstrances, if any, could be filed. Twenty days are allowed to file objections against the proposed improvements.

Three of the petitions came from Jackson township and are for the permanent improvement of the West Sixth street road to the Bell's Ford bridge the West Second street road to Hangmen crossing and the road east of the city. Another petition for a paved road for half a mile west of the Bells Ford Bridge, on the Seymour-Cortland road, was also considered. It is understood that remonstrances are to be filed against at least one of the proposed improvements, the short stretch west of the bridge.

The contractors who were given the contract for building the paved road through Ewing and Brownstown were before the commissioners today and wanted to know what to do concerning the street car tracks. The contractors are getting ready to begin the work and if the tracks are to remain they want to plan the work accordingly.

It is reported there is a movement in Brownstown to have the track removed. After the commissioners heard the contractors a meeting of the business men and representative citizens of the town was called and the proposition was put up to them. The cars on this line are operated between the court house square and the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern depot at Ewing. Horses and mules are used to pull the cars. It is said to be the only line east of the Mississippi River with the exception of one short line in New York City, over which horse propelled cars are operated.

The proposition now before the Brownstown people is to eliminate the cars and install automobile service between the court house and the depot. It is known that at least two companies are ready to put in hourly automobile service as soon as the horse propelled cars are eliminated. The line is owned by the estate of the late Frank Falk and before the tracks can be torn up some settlement will have to be made with the owners, it is stated. It is reported that this feature was being discussed at the meeting this afternoon.

As soon as a settlement is reached about the tracks the contractors will begin work on the new street.

ADDITIONAL AFFIDAVITS SAID TO HAVE BEEN FILED

Wilson Accumulating Evidence Tending to Show Activity of German Submarines.

By United Press.

Washington, April 3—President Wilson is rapidly accumulating evidence tending to indict Germany for recent attacks on unarmed vessels in the English channel.

Word of additional affidavits has reached this country, it was learned today. Additional evidence materially increases the strength of opinion prevailing in administration circles that a German submarine was responsible for the attack on the Sussex and other vessels, jeopardizing American lives.

The situation today was once again described as "very serious."

HASTY REMARK RESULTED IN SMALL FREE-FOR-ALL

Elderly Man and Two Young Men Said to Have Started Clash but Were Parted by Bystanders.

Using black snake whips for weapons, two men partook in a free-for-all today in the middle of East Second street between Broadway and Vine.

The fight was the result of hasty words on the part of an elderly man who it is said was about sixty years old, and two young men who were driving a team on the same pavement with the old gentleman. Some of those who saw the beginning of the fight say that the old man endeavored to pass the younger men and in doing so he drove too close to the wagon of the latter and the two vehicles clashed, the bump being very slight. The old man is reported to have made a rash remark about being able to whip those of the younger generation and as a consequence there was a fight, it is said. If it had not been for the bystanders it appeared there was to have been a real fight. However these persons stopped the conflict and the parties went upon their way rejoicing.

BELIEF IS THAT VILLA HAS ESCAPED THROUGH THE RING

Indians Will Go to Front Early Next Week and Engage in the Hunt for the Bandit.

By United Press.

San Antonio, April 3.—Believing that Pancho Villa has escaped the ring of American and Carranza troops, reported to have surrounded him, General Funston today laid plans to track down the bandit with the aid of Apache scouts.

"It is my belief that Villa has slipped his collar and crawled under the fence," was Funston's comment today. At the same time it was announced that twenty Apaches who either fought with or against Geronimo in the famous campaign against the Indian bandit will go to the front early next week. These Indians are considered by military men to be the best trailers in the world.

DUTCH ACTIVITY IS NOT DUE TO THREAT

This is Emphatically Stated by British Foreign Office in Discussion Warlike Preparations.

TO PRESERVE NEUTRALITY

Dutch Minister of War Refuses Suggestion That Army Demobilize to Preserve Peace.

(By Ed L. Keen, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, April 3.—The British foreign office informed the United Press this afternoon that there is no foundation for the rumor that Holland's warlike preparations are due to any threat by the allies to violate Dutch neutrality. It was also denied that any decision made by the allies at the recent Paris conference was responsible for the sudden summoning of the Dutch parliament into session and the cancellation of soldiers' leave of absence.

The Dutch minister of war in an interview at Amsterdam instead of explaining the reasons for Holland's military preparations made the situation even more puzzling. He hinted that from some power came the suggestion that Holland demobilize the force she now has in arms to preserve her neutrality.

"Holland must be ready at a moment's notice to resist with the utmost vigor any danger that may arise," he said. "We must be ready to use our whole force at a moment's notice against the violators of our neutrality. We have, therefore, decided to reject the suggestion that we demobilize even the smallest part of our army."

SUSSEX AFFAIR GETS BUT LITTLE ATTENTION NOW

German People Convinced That British Vessel Was Victim of a Mine, not of Submarine.

By United Press.

(By Carl W. Ackerman, United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, April 3.—The Sussex affair is arousing little apprehension in Berlin in regard to the German-American relations. The tension apparent during the Lusitania and Arabia negotiations is utterly lacking.

This is chiefly due to the popular conviction that the Sussex was mined not torpedoed, though it is pointed out she was formerly in the service as a British transport and might have been through error so regarded by a U-boat commander. The increased activity of the U-boats has created most favorable impression among the German people.

Tender Teeth—the first sign of Pyorrhea

When you brush your teeth, does it feel as though you were brushing against the quick? Do the gums sometimes bleed? This is because pyorrhea has caused the gums to pull away from your teeth, leaving the unenamelled surfaces unprotected.

Your dentist will tell you, if you ask him, that you have gum recession; and that gum recession is caused by pyorrhea.

Unchecked, pyorrhea will warp and shrink and deform the gums. It will break down the bony structure into which the teeth are set—and you will eventually lose them. To save your teeth you will have to begin to fight this dread disease at once.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senreco Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SUCH A SHAKEUP AS WOULD RESULT

Postal Bill Pending in Congress Designed to Have But One Post-office in Each County.

SUB-STATIONS ARE PLANNED

Central Office According to Measure would be Located at the County Seat.

Should a certain piece of postal legislation pending before the congress and one that is receiving the enthusiastic support of the postmaster-general be enacted into law, radical changes would be made in this county. Under the provision of the bill there would be but one postoffice in the county and it would be located at Brownstown, the county seat. The postmaster there would be the county postmaster.

The bill would not abolish the other offices in the county, but would make them sub-stations. They would be operated under the supervision of the county postmaster.

That such legislation is even contemplated will be news to most persons, as it has attracted virtually no attention. Under its sweeping provisions 50,000 postmasterships throughout the country would be abolished. The offices themselves would not be wiped out, but after the postmasterships have been abolished the offices would be open to the appointment of superintendent. Postmaster-general Burleson is openly and earnestly backing the legislation and doing all he can to procure its passage.

The legislation proposes a reorganization of the postal savings system. The house committees on post office and post roads refused to recommend it and the bill as it passed the house did not contain the provision. It was incorporated in the senate bill, however, and is now one of the amendments in dispute between the house and senate conferees. The provision, which would go far toward uprooting the established postal service, reads as follows:

"Hereafter the postmaster-general may establish under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, one or more branch offices, non-accounting, for the transaction of any post office business which may be required for the convenience of the public." In a statement before the house committee explaining the operation of the proposed legislation first assistant postmaster-general Daniel C. Roper said:

"By making the county the unit and subsidiary to the main office situated at the county seat, the number of accounting offices would be reduced from 56,000 to 3,000. The county postmaster would be assisted by a clerk in charge, under his immediate supervision, at each subsidiary office."

Mr. Roper clearly stated in hearings before the committee that the legislation would abolish the present postmasters. Representative Madden of Illinois was one of the members who asked questions and one of his questions was:

"This would put the postmaster-general in a position to appoint one postmaster in each county, would it not, and would put all other post offices in the county as non-accounting offices, subject to his jurisdiction?"

Mr. Roper said that was so.

It is said that more than fifty members of the house have been in conference with the postmaster general during the last week in regard to this item. The conferences have been at the request of the postmaster-general, who is insistent on the approval of the item.

There was a similar proposition once before when the post office de-

A Record Auto Year

There was more automobile advertising in the newspapers in 1915 than ever before. Automobile factories ran to capacity to supply the demand. There will be a still greater volume of newspaper advertising in 1916—manufacturers agree. Commenting on this fact the President of a leading motor car company says: "The fact that newspaper advertising will sell automobiles leads me to the conclusion that it will sell any good product."

The congregation is greatly pleased with the manner in which the new pastor is directing the affairs of the church. The members are unanimous in their praise of his pulpit work and a year of growth and increased activity is promised for the next twelve months.

LUTHERANS DEFEATED BY
ST. PAUL'S, OF INDIANAPOLISLocal Bowling and Basket Ball
Teams Return Courtesy and Allow Their Hosts to Win.

Not to be outdone in courtesy by their Indianapolis friends, who on the occasion of their recent visit here very graciously allowed their Seymour hosts to annex both the basket ball and bowling contests, the local Walther Leaguers of the German Lutheran church returned the compliment on their return visit to the capitol city Saturday, and, evidently figuring that it would not be quite right to accept of their hospitality and then go in and defeat them before their home friends, permitted the teams of St. Paul's Lutheran church to take both the basket ball game, played Saturday night, and the bowling contest, which was rolled yesterday afternoon.

The basket ball game, which was played at the Marion Club gymnasium, was a closely contested affair from start to finish, which was featured by the close guarding of both teams. The final score was 15 to 8. A. Brietfield, the local center, started the scoring with a field goal, but the Indianapolis team played such a strong defensive game during the remainder of the half that one point on a free throw was all the locals could add to their score. The half ended 7 to 3 in favor of St. Paul's team. The second half was equally hard fought, but towards the latter part of the game the Indianapolis players commenced taking long shots at the basket, and succeeded in making several of them good.

In the bowling contest yesterday the local pin artists were slightly off form, and this, coupled with the consistent rolling of the Indianapolis bowlers, proved enough to return the latter winners in all three arguments. The summary of both bowling and basket ball games follow:

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO AID
IN WAR ON ALL MOSQUITOES

Million Insects In Jars Will Be Used to Educate Kiddies.

An army of more than a million mosquitoes will be raised by the New York health department as soon as possible and distributed, safely packed in glass jars, among the public schools of the city.

The plan is an important part of a campaign of education and extermination just beginning—education for the children, extermination for the mosquitoes.

The interstate mosquito commission held a busy meeting at the health department rooms. Representatives were there from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, with special delegates from Westchester and Long Island. Health Commissioner Emerson of New York announced the local campaign against mosquitoes will be carried on more vigorously than ever this year. All owners of buildings in which water is allowed to lodge in gutters, drains or elsewhere will be prosecuted criminally. It is clearly established mosquitoes breed in such patches of water.

"Every pupil in the public schools will be asked to study the structure, needs and habits of mosquitoes," said Dr. Baldwin, "so as to be able to recognize the dangerous kind at a glance and join in the war of extermination."

"If the public school children do all they can to help exterminate mosquitoes they will help to ward off a great deal of sickness and suffering. There are not so many malarial mosquitoes in New York, and a vigorous campaign will prevent the breeding of the pests in this city."

Make Your Savings Earn Money

The Cooperative Building and Loan Association will start Series L Monday, April 3, giving citizens of Seymour another opportunity to place their savings each week where the money will earn steady and sure dividends.

Last year the Cooperative earned over 7 per cent. for its stockholders, and every member, whether a borrower or investor shared in the earnings just in proportion to the amount of stock held.

By saving 25 cents per week for a little over six years the payments made and the earnings amount to $100.00 when the stock matures. If for any reason it is impossible to continue the payments, the stock may be withdrawn at any time and the stockholder receives all the earnings up to the time of withdrawal.

There is no safer investment. There is no better plan to have your weekly savings earn money for you. There is no easier way to secure a home or accumulate a sum of money, than by the building and loan plan.

See the Secretary Thos. J. Clark and take stock in the new Series L.

French Observer Dropped When Captive Balloon Was Cut Adrift.

The parachute, with which all observers in French captive balloons have now been provided, had a practical test recently near Clermont, in the Argonne region. German shells had cut the ropes holding one of the largest of these balloons, or "sausages," as they are called by the soldiers, on account of their shape.

It immediately rose to a height of 11,000 feet and drifted toward the German lines. The watchers below saw the observer get out of the basket and launch himself into space. After a sharp drop the parachute opened, and the observer reached the ground in safety, about 300 yards within the French line. The first sharp drop of about 150 feet, he said, was distinctly disagreeable, but after the parachute spread the descent was pleasant and was so gentle that during the twenty minutes which it lasted he had leisure to continue to take observations of the movements in progress beyond the German lines.

PLANS CORDON TO CATCH VILLA

U. S. Troop Movements Are Kept Secret.

N. T. TIGHTENS ABOUT BANDIT

Outlaw Not With Band Attacked by Colonel Dodd—Has Three Bands Operating in Guerrero-Minaca District—12,000 U. S. Soldiers in Hunt.

El Paso, Tex., April 3.—No news has come from the American army or from the Carranza officials south of Juarez regarding the present whereabouts of Villa or any of his band.

That Villa is without funds became known here when reliable reports told of an appeal he had sent but recently to one of his former lieutenants living in New Mexico, begging for $1,500 to be sent to Mrs. Villa in Los Angeles. He said that he had no money to send her; that his brother Hipolito got away with all he possessed when he fled for Cuba.

Army officers in El Paso, with their first reliable information at hand from the front regarding the disposition of American troops, were busy speculating on the operations of General Pershing's expedition in Mexico and the guess was that he is using a lot of troops for some purpose that he has not permitted to become known here.

The speculation is that he would send some of his forces far to the south of Guerrero, even to Chihuahua City, to cut Villa off in his flight.

The first news regarding the disposition of troops came out in a special telegram from your correspondent with the troops and was read here by army men with avidity.

"There are now over 12,000 United States troops in Mexico, probably close to 13,000," said an officer discussing the situation, "and this message accounts for only 2,500 of them. We know that there are 2,000 more, possibly 3,000 guarding the line of communication, south of Columbus to Madera. Where the other 7,000 or 8,000 men are nobody on the outside has been permitted to learn."

Nothing has been sent out about the artillery except a dispatch telling of the fast time the artillery made in getting into Mexico. The presumption is that it traveled as fast as the cavalry and it should be somewhere away to the south of General Pershing's headquarters near Namiquipa. At the rate the cavalry has been traveling—the Dodd column is about four hundred miles from the border, some of the forces could be much further inland and it is the belief that General Pershing has been able to push a number of his men south of Guerrero and circle them around the Mexican Central railroad, south of Chihuahua.

It will be recalled that the dispatches from Washington said that permission has been asked to use the Mexican National lines, as well as the Mexican Northwestern. In the light of what we now believe, we presume it was General Pershing's desire to use the national lines to take food and supplies south through Chihuahua City to his men. From Minaca, which is a short distance from Guerrero the American forces could have gone south for considerable distance through the mountains on the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad. They could then have spread eastward south of Cusiuhirachic and Santa Ysabel toward the Mexico National lines, forming a complete cordon south of Villa.

Such a cordon would keep Villa moving east, toward the city of Chihuahua as his only means of escape, it is pointed out, hence, if the Americans do not overtake him soon it would not be a surprise to army officers here if Villa made an attack upon the city of Chihuahua, where sentiment is reported in his favor. Many of Villa's former followers are there.

Villa has had three bandit bands operating in the Guerrero-Minaca district and was not with the band attacked by Colonel Dodd at Guerrero, according to apparently authentic advices from Chihuahua City. According to these advices Villa was at Cusiuhirachic, fifty miles southeast of Guerrero when Colonel Dodd clashed with the bandits.

General Herrera, the message said, was at Laguna, fifty kilometers north of Chihuahua City with 150 men and two subordinate guns. Laguna is on a trail running west into the Santa Maria valley. Herrera was said to be wholly passive.

SEVERAL BOMB PLOT ARRESTS ARE LIKELY

Examination of German Stow-away Postponed.

New York, April 3.—Important arrests are expected within forty-eight hours, the police announced, in connection with the case of Clarence Reginald Hudson, also known as Ernest Schiller, the German stowaway who, single-handed, captured the British steamship Matoppe at sea and cowed its crew of fifty-six men.

When Hudson was arraigned on a charge of "suspicion of conspiring" to dynamite the Cunard line steamship Pannonia, the district attorney's office requested that his examination be deferred, explaining that important developments were expected immediately.

To save himself from deportation to England and the possibility of being executed there as a spy, Hudson has "confessed" to planning explosions on many munition boats bound for ports of the entente allies, the police say.

Captain Tunney and his "bomb squad" are endeavoring to verify the story told by Hudson. A thorough search is being made for the confederates whom he alleged deserted him on the eve of the projected attack on the Pannonia. It was learned that the police, after trailing Hudson for three weeks, lost track of him a few days before he stowed himself away on the Matoppe.

According to Hudson, his efforts to cause the destruction of steamers were financed by a young woman living in Salem, Mass., who is a German sympathizer.

GERMAN ZEPPELS RAID ENGLAND

Sixteen Killed; 100 Injured by Bombs.

TEUTONS NOW OCCUPY VAUX

Third Raid of Zeppelins on British Coast in Forty-Eight Hours—Six of Kaiser's Aeroplanes Brought Down in Verdun Region.

London, April 3.—Three Zeppelin raids have been made on England within the past forty-eight hours. The third of these visited the Scottish coast and the northeastern and southeastern counties of England.

Details of this latest raid have not yet been received and there is no information regarding casualties.

Sixteen persons are known to have been killed and 100 injured by bombs dropped by a Zeppelin in the northeastern counties. It evidently had been planned for two Zeppelins to take part in this raid. Two machines were seen approaching the coast, but only one crossed the coast line, the other retreating over the sea.

The localities raided by the single Zeppelin, which remained, have not been announced by the war office which said that the bombs caused a serious fire without mentioning the name of the town. Eight houses also were demolished by the bombs.

Paris, April 3.—The Germans followed up their success in taking the village of Vitoxin. An attack in heavy force against the French positions in the Douaumont-Vaux line, centering their efforts against the Bois De La Caillette, southeast of Ft. Douaumont. They succeeded in penetrating the wood, but were driven back into the northern part of the wood by a French counter attack.

The Germans used over a full division (some 25,000 men) in the attack, which was preceded by an exceptionally heavy bombardment by the heaviest German artillery. The attack was made at four points simultaneously.

As soon as the Germans had forced their way into the forest, strong French counter attacks were begun at once, and part of the ground lost was recovered.

The official communique issued by the French war office announces that the French now have entirely withdrawn from the village of Vaux in which the Germans first gained a footing on March 11, completing their occupation in this last attack. The French line now extends along the outskirts of the village.

Six German aeroplanes were brought down, or were forced to make hasty descents, in the Verdun region, and a seventh was brought down by anti-aircraft guns in the Bois Le Prete, in the Woevre district. French aviators bombarded the railway station at Etain, bivouacs at Mantillois, and the villages of Azannes and Brisulles-Sur-Meuse.

Several strong infantry attacks were made by the Germans on a redoubt in the Bois Avocourt, on the western bank of the Meuse without making any gains against the French artillery and machine gun fire.

TENSION IN HOLLAND SHROUDED IN SECRECY

Asserted No Immediate Prospect of War.

The Hague (via London), April 3.—The secrecy of the increased diplomatic tension in Holland is being well kept. Even persons whose positions justify the assumption that they have knowledge of what is happening, confess that they themselves are puzzled.

A competent authority states there was no immediate prospect of Holland becoming involved in hostilities with any power, though it was believed that Germany lately had somewhat increased her forces along the frontier, and that precautionary measures on Holland's side were a natural consequence. It was pointed out that if war were impending more would be done than the temporary stoppage of furloughs, which moreover had been done before.

The Nieuwe Courant comments on the holding of the conference of the entente allies in Paris, and says that the general war situation has entered or is about to enter a phase necessitating special watchfulness. The newspaper understands that the Chamber of deputies will not meet until April 4, when it had been convoked normally to discuss the question of old age pensions.

The Vaderland expresses the hope that the "nation will take these unexpected tidings calmly."

The newspaper says if danger is really imminent, not a moment should be lost in convoking the chamber.

DISMISS BENTLAGE SUIT

Charged Alleged Shortage Against Former Cashier Who Suicided.

Richmond, Ind., April 3.—The case of H. C. Hasemeier company against the estate of Louise F. Bentlage, which was set for trial in the Randolph circuit court on a change of venue from Wayne county, has been dismissed.

Miss Bentlage, a member of an old family here, committed suicide in 1914. A note which she left led to an investigation of the records she kept as bookkeeper of the dry goods store for many years and the charge that a shortage of more than $10,000 existed.

The first trial of the case in the Wayne circuit court before special judge Sparks of Rushville resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

ADVOCATES NEW METHODS

Plan of Rockefeller Board Would Revolutionize Public Schools.

New York, April 3.—The General Education board, founded by John D. Rockefeller and itself a part of the Rockefeller foundation, has issued a statement advocating the establishment of a modern school in New York that, if ever put in operation would be the most revolutionary experiment tried in the world of education. The school would eliminate practically every course of study now given in the public schools, and in their places would teach subjects pertaining to the actual activities in science, industry, aesthetics and civics.

The paper made public was prepared by Abraham Flexner, assistant secretary to the board and a member of the city board of education.

Elwood Dries Ahead By One.

Anderson, Ind., April 3.—With twenty-two mutilated ballots yet to be ruled on, the standing in the appeal of the Elwood option case is as follows: Dry's 1,349; wets, 1,348. The wets believe they will gain one vote among the mutilated ballots, making the final result a tie.

WILSON TO TALK IN NEW YORK

Will Make Important Political Address to Democratic Club.

New York, April 3.—President Wilson is expected to make an important political address in this city a week from next Saturday night, April 15. He has accepted the invitation of the New York Young Men's Democratic club to be the guest of honor at the club's banquet to be held at the Hotel Knickerbocker on that evening.

Former Governor Martin H. Glynn, George McAneny, Clarence Shearn and Sheriff Alfred E. Smith will be the other speakers, besides the president, and the present indications point to the gathering as a get-together meeting of the state and city Democracy anticipatory of the coming national campaign.

It is understood that the president was prevailed on to respond to the club's invitation by Colonel House, Mr. Wilson's political confidante.

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill. — "While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital."—Mrs. E. SHELTON, 5657 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

PLANS FOR GREAT AIRSHIP

Craft Designed to Sail Across the Atlantic Ocean.

New York, April 3.—In a new aircraft, to be equipped with six motors of 300 horse power each, capable of making a speed of 100 miles an hour carrying six persons, Rodman Wana-maker will renew the attempt to fly across the Atlantic ocean, which he abandoned in the summer of 1914 when his flight commander, Lieutenant John C. Porte, was called to England for service in the European war.

This was announced by Allan R. Hawley, president of the Aero club of America.

No date has been set for the attempt, but it was expected to be made some time this summer.

During the first quarter of the year eighty-five persons were killed by vehicles, fifty-eight by automobiles, sixteen by trolleys and eleven by wagons. Of the total number killed, thirty-three were children.

MILK FAMINE IN CHICAGO

Farmers Refuse to Sell to Dealers at Prices Offered.

Chicago, April 3.—Dairymen of Kane, McHenry and Will counties are feeding more than a million quarts of milk a day to the pigs on their farms since the strike of the milk producers was declared, George H. Heller, of Batavia, secretary of the Kane County Milk Producers' association, said. The cream is being separated from the milk and shipped to Chicago and rather than sell the milk at the price offered by the various milk distributors, the dairymen are feeding it to the swine.

Auto Owners Can't Hide For Pleasure.

London, April 3.—Mere pleasure riding must not be indulged in any more by automobile owners during the war, says a manifesto issued by the Royal Automobile club, which has started a campaign of economy in the use of petrol.

Liverpool, April 3.—The Mersey dock strike has ended. The men returned to work.

THE PRINCE OF GRAUSTARK

By
GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON
Author of "Graustark,"
"Beverly of Graustark," Etc.

Copyright, 1914, by Dodd, Mead and Company

Count Quinnox sprang to his feet and banged the table with his fist. "By jove!" he shouted, suddenly comprehending.

"The letter B?" queried Gourou, perplexed.

"The newspapers say that she sailed from New York under an assumed name," went on Dank, thrilled by his own amazing cleverness. "There you are! Plain as day. The letter B explains everything. Now we know who Miss Guile really is. She's—"

"Maud!" exclaimed Quinnox, sinking back into his chair.

"Miss Blithers!" cried Gourou, diving at last. "By jove!" And thus was the jovian circle completed.

Robin was informed bright and early the next morning. In fact, he was still in his pajamas when the news was carried to him by the exhausted Dank, who had spent five hours in bed, but none in slumber. Never in all his ardent career had the smart lieutenant been so bitterly afflicted with love-sickness as now.

"I don't believe a word of it," said the prince promptly. "You've been dreaming, old chap."

"That letter B isn't a dream, is it?"

"No, it isn't," said Robin, and instantly sat up in bed, his face very serious. "If she should turn out to be Miss Blithers, I've cooked my goose to a crisp. Good Lord, when I think of some of the things I said to her about the Blithers family! But wait! If she is Miss Blithers do you suppose she'd sit calmly by and hear the family ridiculed? No, sir! She would have taken my head off like a flash."

"I suppose you'll see nothing more of her, your highness," remarked Dank, a sly hope struggling in his breast.

"You'd better put it the other way. She'll see nothing more of me," lugubriously.

"I mean to say, sir, you can't go on with it, can you?"

"If there is really anything to go on with, Dank, I'll go on with it, believe me."

They Would Have None of William W. Blithers' Daughter.

The lieutenant stared. "But if she should be Miss Blithers, what then?"

"It might simplify matters tremendously," said Robin, but not at all confidently.

Later on, while they were breakfasting in Robin's sitting room, Hobbs brought in the morning newspapers. He laid one of them before the prince and jabbed his forefinger upon a glaring headline.

"Miss Blithers Denies Report. Signed Statement Mysteriously Received. American Heiress Not to Wed Prince of Graustark." Shall I read the article, sir?"

Robin snatched up the paper and read aloud for himself.

The following card appeared at the head of the column and was supplemented by a complete resume of the Blithers Graustark muddle:

"Miss Blithers desire to correct an erroneous report that has appeared in the newspapers. She is not engaged to be married to the Prince of Graustark, nor is there even the remotest probability that such will ever be the case. Miss Blithers regrets that she has not the honor of Prince Robin's acquaintance, and the prince has specifically stated in the public print-that he does not know her by sight. The statements of the two persons most vitally affected by this disturbing rumor should be taken as final. Sufficient pain and annoyance already have been caused by the malicious and utterly groundless report." The name of Maud Applegate Blithers was appended to the statement, and it was dated Paris, Aug. 29.

It appears that the signed statement was left in the counting room of the various newspapers by a heavily veiled lady at an hour agreed upon as "about 10 o'clock." There was absolutely no clue to the identity of this woman.

"Well, she appears to be here," said Robin as he laid down the last of the three journals and stared at Dank as if expecting hope from that most unreliable source.

"I suppose you will now admit that I am right about the letter B," said Dank sullenly.

"When I see Miss Guile I shall ask point blank if she is Maud Applegate, Dank, and if she says she isn't I'll take her word for it," said Robin.

"And if she says she is?"

"Well," said the prince ruefully, "I'll still take her word for it."

"And then?"

"Then I shall be equally frank and tell her that I am Robin of Graustark. That will put us all square again, and we'll see what comes of it in the end."

The day was warm and clear, and Paris was gleaming. Robin stretched his long legs in a brisk walk across the Place Vendome and up the Rue de la Paix to the boulevard. Here he hesitated and then retraced his steps slowly down the street of diamonds, for he suspected Miss Guile of being interested in things that were costly.

Suddenly inspired, he made his way to the Place de la Concorde and settled himself on one of the seats near the entrance to the Champs Elysees. A man came up and took a seat beside him.

"Good morning, Mr. Schmidt," said the newcomer, and Robin somewhat gruffly demanded what the deuce he meant by following him. "I have some interesting news," said Baron Gourou quietly.

"From home?" asked Robin carelessly.

"Indirectly. It comes through Berlin. Our special agent there wires me that the offices of Mr. Blithers in that city have received instructions from him to send engineers to Edelweiss for the purpose of estimating the cost of remodeling and rebuilding the castle—in other words, to restore it to its condition prior to the Marlanx rebellion fifteen years ago."

There was a tantalizing smile on the baron's face as he watched the changing expressions in that of his prince.

"Are you in earnest?" demanded Robin, a bright red spot appearing in each cheek. The baron nodded his head. "Well, he's got a lot of nerve!"

"I shudder when I think of what is likely to happen to those architects when they begin snooping around the castle," said Gourou dryly. "By the way, have you seen Miss Guile this morning?"

Robin's cheeks were now completely suffused. "Certainly not."

"She was in the Rue de la Paix half an hour ago. I thought you might—"

"You saw her, baron?"

"Yes, highness, and it may interest you to know that she saw you."

"The deuce you say! But how do you know that it was Miss Guile. You've no means of knowing."

"It is a part of my profession to recognize people from given descriptions. In this case, however, the identification was rendered quite simple by the actions of the young lady herself. She happened to emerge from a shop just as you were passing, and I've never seen any one, criminal or otherwise, seek cover as quickly as she did. She darted back into the shop like one pursued by the devil."

"Where did she go from the Rue de la Paix?" asked Robin impatiently.

"To the Ritz. I was there almost as soon as she. She handed an envelope—containing a letter, I fancy—to the carriage man and drove away in the direction of the Place de l'Opera. I have a sly notion, my prince, that you will find a note awaiting you on your return to the hotel. Ah, you appear to be in haste, my young hunter."

"I am in haste. If you expect to keep alongside, baron, you'll have to run," cried the prince, and was instantly in his seven league boots.

"Won't you sit down, baron? I'll be at liberty in a minute or two," he said, on reaching his room at the hotel, and coolly proceeded to scan the brief message from Miss Guile.

LONE WOMAN IS FOUND MURDERED

Skull Crushed by Heavy Blows From Hatchet.

BODY FOUND BY COUSIN

Theory of Police Woman Was Killed by Sneak Thief Who Had Been Surprised in the House—Police Seeking For Clues.

Jeffersonville, Ind., April 3.—In an obscure closet under a stairway the body of Mrs. Fannie Brookbank, a wealthy widow and member of a prominent family of southern Indiana, was found in her home where she lived alone and where she had been murdered several days ago.

Mrs. Brookbank's skull had been crushed by three heavy blows, any one of which would have caused death. The police believe the murder is the work of a sneak thief, whom Mrs. Brookbank had surprised in the house.

A basket of clothes, which had been standing for several days before Mrs. Brookbank's door, led to the discovery of the murder. Neighbors had noticed the basket several times and regarded it as queer that it had not been removed.

The Rev. J. F. Vawter, who lives next door, decided that he should notify Mrs. Brookbank's relatives of the unusual circumstances and allow them to make an investigation. Emons Jacobs, a cousin, was called and, with residents of the neighborhood, he went to the Brookbank home. Mrs. Brookbank was not in her room and the house bore evidence of having been searched.

On a second floor, a part of the house which had been previously occupied by another family, Mrs. Brookbank's body was found. Appearances gave the indication that she had been murdered in a room downstairs and dragged into a closet where the body lay.

The wounds in the head appeared to have been inflicted with a hatchet. The murdered woman was a cousin of Allen A. Swartz, president of the First National bank of this city.

Mrs. Brookbank was last seen several days ago when an insurance agent called at the house. She was not seen the next day when the basket of clothes were delivered at the home. The woman who delivered the clothes rang the door bell persistently, but received no answer.

Police are making every effort to round up some slew that will lead to the apprehension of the murderer.

FINAL CALL COMES TO RETIRED BANKER

one of the principal promoters of the Seymour Water Works Company, and for many years its treasurer. He was also the first president of the "old" Seymour Ice and Electric Company. He was active with others in forming an association to purchase the land and establish the now beautiful Riverview cemetery, advancing the money to pay for the ground, and was one of its directors for many years.

Two years ago on account of the feeble condition of his health he retired from active participation in all public business, and sought the quiet and peaceful surroundings of his comfortable home, where in the constant companionship of his devoted daughter and her faithful friend he waited with serene patience the sunset that cast its eternal shade over all scenes and memories of life.

Such is a brief synopsis of the activities in public affairs of this upright man, whose hand and thought and means were ever engaged in nearly all the useful and enduring enterprises that have brought stability and prosperity to the city and county of his adoption. To whatever public position he was called to act, his fidelity to the trust; his industry in the prompt discharge of every obligation; his honesty and his complacency toward all whom he served won, and held, the esteem and confidence of all classes and conditions of the people. But high as was his reputation as a public servant, it was not more eminent than that of his private and social life. United as he was to a companion of congenial wishes, hopes and desires, there was in his home a mutual effort to make it the center of all earthly happiness—the theater of all domestic pleasures and amusements; and the court of fidelity, honor and love.

From such a home he daily went forth to the business of the day and to meet with his neighbors in friendly greeting. His friendships were sincere, warm, helpful and enduring; once established, no calumny, misfortune or criticism could destroy. His social manners were not gathered from written and formal codes, but were the innate emotions of a kind wishing heart. He recognized no classes as superior to the other except as their moral character ennobled them. He was of jovial disposition and lived in the sunshine of life as much as possible, and even when threatening clouds were in the business sky above him he never despaired or lost hope. As a neighbor in kindness, helpfulness and cheerfulness there never was a superior. As a husband and father he was all that could be in affection, care and protection for the loved ones depending upon him.

In the last year Seymour has lost by death, many of its worthy older citizens. Their loss is felt; but none will be missed with a keener sorrow than that upright, genial and universal friend, Ben Price.

SEYMOUR PEOPLE PRAISE SIMPLE MIXTURE

Many in Seymour praise the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka. This remedy is the most THOROUGH bowel cleanser ever sold being even used successfully in appendicitis. ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gasses rumble and pass out. Adler-i-ka cannot gripe and the INSTANT action is surprising. C. E. Loertz.

ONE HUNDRED LEADING HOOSIERS 1816-1916

(Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.)

JOHN WESLEY DAVIS—1799-1859.

John W. Davis, probate judge, state legislator, congressman, minister to China, and governor of the Oregon Territory, was born on Pennsylvania in 1799. He was reared on a farm, was graduated from the medical department of the Baltimore University in 1821, and two years later arrived in Carlisle, Ind., with his young wife "and just three cents in his pocket." His medical practice gained him many friends and he soon entered politics. The first office he held was that of probate judge. He entered the legislature in 1831, and became speaker in 1832. In this capacity, he served for three different sessions. For eight years he was a member of congress, and in 1845, speaker of the house. In 1847 President Polk appointed him minister to China, which position he filled for three years. He was chairman of the democratic national convention that nominated Franklin Pierce in Baltimore in 1852. The following year President Pierce appointed him governor of the Oregon Territory. He died in 1859.

Vinol Restored Her Strength

Canton, Miss.—"I am 75 years old and became very weak, and feeble from the effects of La Grippe, but Vinol has done me a world of good. It has cured my cough, built up my strength so I feel active and well again."—Mrs. Lizzie Baldwin, Canton, Miss.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, aids digestion, enriches the blood and creates strength. Unequalled for chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis. Your money back if it fails. Carter's Drug Store, Seymour, Ind.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Local attorneys who were in Brownstown were: Deputy Prosecutor, Montgomery, Thomas M. Honan and John H. Kamman.

Mrs. James Persinger was in this city today looking for a vacant residence. She intends to move here in the near future for future residence.

Arthur Henderson, the man who was arrested for intoxication Saturday afternoon, was arraigned in the Mayor's court this morning and fined $1 and costs.

J. B. Purkhiser, trainmaster on the B. & O. Southwestern, and S. A. Rogers, road foreman of engines, were among the local railroad men who attended the funeral of the late Rae Robinson, conducted in Flora, Ill., Saturday.

E. A. Remy, who is rapidly regaining his health after undergoing an operation for pleurisy at the local hospital several weeks ago, is planning to attend the Republican state convention this week. He expects to go Tuesday morning.

The death of the late B. F. Price removes the oldest Odd Fellow in the city. Besides being the oldest member of the local lodge Mr. Price was also the oldest man enrolled. He has been an Odd Fellow for fifty years. S. S. Stockdell now becomes the oldest Odd Fellow and the oldest member of the local lodge. He joined forty-eight years ago.

C. W. Milhous, of Whittier, Cal., who formerly conducted the Milhous drug store now owned by C. E. Loertz in Seymour, arrived Sunday afternoon for a brief visit with friends. Mr. Milhous spent a couple of days with his son, Frank, in Chicago, and with his brother-in-law, Frank Scott, at Indianapolis, on his way here. He spent Sunday night at Austin with relatives and will return here today.

Mrs. C. R. Emery and daughter, Miss Ora, returned today from Flora, Ill., where they attended the funeral of the late Rae Robinson, a B. & O. Southwestern engineer who was fatally wounded in a wreck near Flora last week. The services were held at Flora, Mr. Robinson's boyhood home, and were largely attended. The engineers of the B. & O. were well represented.

The Molars, the musicians at the Majestic, have installed a new instrument which will add to their already exceptionally fine equipment. They have invested in an instrument known as a Unafone which has cost them over $300. The new instrument is attached to the piano and plays in connection with the keys of that instrument. It is operated by electricity. With this new instrument local people will have an opportunity to hear some very delightful music.

Judge O. H. Montgomery went to Indianapolis today to open his headquarters on the third floor of the Hotel Severin. He will remain in Indianapolis until after the Republican state convention Wednesday and Thursday. He is a candidate for supreme judge from the Second judicial district and his friends are greatly pleased with the encouragement which he has received in his campaign.

Judge John M. Lewis opened headquarters in the lobby parlor of the Severin Hotel, Indianapolis, the latter part of last week and from there will direct his campaign for the nomination for lieutenant-governor of Indiana before the Republican state convention. His co-workers have been actively engaged in his behalf and they predict his nomination on the second or third ballot. The convention will nominate the ticket Thursday.

The city engineer spent the afternoon making a preliminary survey of the city park. This was done that he might be able to present a report to the council showing exactly the amount of material that will be required to fill in the low places in the park. As such places are few and the rest of the park is in good condition, generally speaking, it is thought that in a few weeks the city will be ready to reopen the play-grounds for the summer.

Saturday was the last day for filing petitions for alumni trustee of Indiana University. Among the names filed were: Thomas Honan, Seymour; Dr. S. E. Smith, Richmond; J. A. Harper, Fort Wayne, and Wilbur T. Gruber, Battle Ground. The election will be to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Judge Joseph H. Shea, who was recently appointed as ambassador to Chili. There are eight trustees, five elected by the state board of education and three by the state alumni. The election will be held next June and is always a part of the commencement program.
